

Action Plan for Implementing Wireless E9-1-1

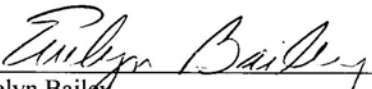

On November 20, 2002 the following individuals, representing the range of professions involved in wireless emergency communications, agreed to an Action Plan for Implementing Wireless E9-1-1.

The Action Plan responds to the urgency of implementing a national system that will allow victims or bystanders to dial 9-1-1 on their wireless phone at the scene of a motor vehicle crash or other emergency, and permit emergency dispatchers to automatically locate the scene and send help quickly and accurately.

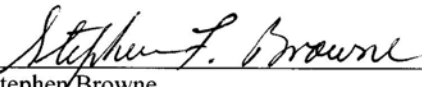

The plan recognizes the complexity of implementing wireless E9-1-1 and includes critical roles for industry, public safety, health, and governmental organizations. The plan focuses on a number of priority issues that need to be addressed during the implementation process and recommends specific organizational leadership for resolving these challenges.

The individuals signed below are members of the National Wireless E9-1-1 Steering Council convened by Secretary of Transportation Norman Y. Mineta on April 8, 2002 for the purpose of developing a strategy and providing leadership for the implementation of this critical national infrastructure.

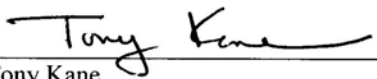

The below signed individuals pledge their commitment to the Action Plan and to successful nationwide implementation of wireless E9-1-1.
